LOCAL BANK IS PAID LOSSES INCURRED BY BURGLARY TUESDAY

Two Unknown Men Stage Set Up and Leave With Goodly Sum of Loot—Make Escape In High-Powered Car—No Clue and Make Good Escape.

Taking advantage of the lull at the noon lunch hour, 12:25 o'clock, when most of the bank force was out, two unmasked men unceremoniously walked into the Merchants Bank & Trust Company's building, and with few words uttered proceeded to "hold up" the bank and finally made good their escape in a blue car, presumably a Buick, sedan, carrying a Louisiana license and bearing a plate with the numerals 140703. A check up of the bank's money revealed that $2500 had been stolen.

Stolen Money Insured.
This money was protected by burglary insurance in the Fidelity & Deposit Company of Maryland, agents, with offices at New Orleans, who were promptly advised of the loss and made good every cent the following morning. Hence the bank was reimbursed its stolen money in less than twenty-four hours.

Cashier Yates Tells Story.
"I was standing within the window cage, with one of the bank's ledgers on its rolling holder, with Miss Armstrong nearby," said Cashier W. Val Yates, "when hearing someone enter I raised my eyes and saw two men, standing in single file, as to shield the one in back who was carrying a sawed-off shot gun, which was only revealed later.

"The man in front said, 'Everybody keep quiet,' and with that he detached himself from the close position he stood with his companion and walked to the side door entrance of the bank's grill work. This left his companion with the gun standing alone, about center of the lobby from entrance. This man with his gun pointed remained in the same spot and position throughout the entire procedure, which covered at least ten to twelve minutes.

Ordered To Sit On Floor.
"Proceeding through the door the man walked around to the place where I had been standing. He motioned both Miss Armstrong and myself, the two workers within the bank at that hour, to draw back and made us sit on the floor, with our backs turned. I refused from time to time to turn my back, so I was able to see that he opened the big white cotton sugar bag he held in his hand and proceeded to fill it with currency that had accumulated during the morning hour by deposit and which amounted to some fifteen hundred dollars or more. There were several one-hundred and fifty dollar bills, many two-dollar bills and bills of various other denominations. He spurned the smaller change, saying later he cared nothing for this.

Memorable Experience.
"About this time Ainsworth Kidd, of Carroll avenue, on his way home to lunch from college, entered the bank with a smaller companion seeking their weight on the free scale the bank maintains in the lobby. The man who stood still with the gun directed both young people to get behind the bank grill and had them sit where we were on the floor. It was quite an experience. I do not know the younger boy who was along with Ainsworth, but this kid was some scared and cried in frenzy.

Cashier Outwits Burglar.
"Then the burglar, with little or no hurry or embarrassment, ordered me to lead him to the bank's big vault where we keep a safe for our money. Here he had me to open the door and helped himself to four hundred and one hundred dollars in silver coin. He said he wanted nothing in small denominations and registered emphatic and unprintable words his disappointment at not being able to find more currency. He was out for a big haul. That was apparent. He cursed me and wanted the bulk of the money. I told him that was all we had. As we had sent out several payrolls and were expecting money to be shipped out later from our main depositories at New Orleans. He said, 'Damn you, if you are lying and fail to produce the money there is a way to make you do so. I shall riddle you with bullets.'

Burglar Changes Mind.
"Just then he showed me a revolver he carried beneath his vest and made motion of a violent threat. I insisted that was all we had, and with apparent disgust he threw the bag down on the floor of the vault and said 'Well, if this is all, then I do not wish it.'

Cashier Attempts to Negotiate.
At this juncture, while the man with the gun kept his position in stolid fashion out in the lobby of the bank, Cashier Yates attempted to negotiate with the man in the vault. Cool and collected, he proposed that

C. Greer Moore Is of Opinion Tax Reduction Enhances Values.

C. Greer Moore, Gulf Coast realtor, with offices in New Orleans and Bay St. Louis, was a visitor to Bay St. Louis and discussed various phases of real estate situation regarding values and sales probabilities.

He said the high assessments on certain lands in the city and without the boundaries were above purchase prices that had been paid and that taxation had practically killed many prospective sales he had.

While not questioning the necessity of paying taxes to discharge the obligations of government, he said it was to be deplored that taxes loomed so big as in contrast with the depressed condition and this caused the slump in realty sales more acutely.

"Unless some of the so-called improvements are cut out in future and an actual reduction of taxes made we will continue to suffer from this combination that is actually killing our business," Mr. Moore said. "Country towns are attempting to put on metropolitan airs with nothing to pay for same, hence our taxes either take a sudden jump or the chance of a reduction in assessment and tax rate goes glimmering."

The majority of tax-payers from New Orleans owning property here on the Gulf Coast, seem to share Mr. Moore's opinion, regardless of the other side of the situation.

Balloon Ascension Saturday Trade Day In Bay St. Louis

With the balloon ascension in Bay St. Louis Saturday of this week, on the grounds in de Montluzin avenue, it is expected for Trade Day there will be many people both from the Bay-Waveland district and surrounding territory. The big balloon ascends 3000 feet and the daredevil, "Diavola," leaps from the largest balloon in the world in a parachute. Come early; see the balloon filled and watch the preparatory operations—all as interesting as ascension and jump for life. There is no admission charge. It is free.

This Trade Day attraction in Bay St. Louis is sponsored by the following-named business firms paying for the attraction: Philco Radio Shop, Atlas Drug Store, Joseph C. Benedetto, De Montluzin Drug Store, Bay Mercantile Co., Edwards Motor Company, Beach Drug Store, Porter's Service Station, The Sea Coast Echo, newspaper and printing department, Arceneaux Service Station, Breach's Haberdashery, LeBlanc's Cash Store, Bourgeois Cash Station.

if the loot was left on the floor that he (Yates) would sound no alarm and let them go. But this failed, for later the bag was picked up and held with renewed grip and interest.

"The bandit then walked to the other end of the vault and rifled several vault departments from which were secured a number of bonds. "I want Liberty bonds," said the hold-up man. "Where do you keep them, and tell me damn quick."

Wanted Liberty Bonds.
Yates said the bank's Liberty bonds were in New Orleans vaults the banks they did business with. Just then the man picked up a bunch of Picayune (Miss.) Y. M. C. A. bonds along with other miscellaneous securities. Yates interposed here for mastery of the bonds. He said: "These bonds are deposited with us for collection at their maturity and will do you no good. They are only good in our hands when cashed through the Picayune bank because these bonds are payable there." This worked and the package of bonds were thrown to the floor.

In the meantime Miss Armstrong was covered with the outer man's gun, as well as the two children.

How Exit Was Made.

The burglar emerged from the vault and left Yates therein. He went back to the cashier's window drawer in quest of more currency. At this juncture Yates had gradually slipped out of the vault and made his hurried exit from an outside door, facing the railroad tracks. He slammed the door behind him and the two men, startled, hurriedly made their exit and were soon in the big blue car and made their way at rapid

ACTIVITY BAY TROUP OF SCOUTS

Will Celebrate Washington Birthday—History and Accomplishment of Boys.

By ALTON ERWIN, Troop Scribe.

Our Boy Scout Troop, No. 208 of Bay St. Louis celebrated the 22nd anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America with a special meeting on Monday February 8, on which date the entire troop met and observed scout oath.

On the 8th day of February 22 years ago the scout movement was started in America and while this great event has its birthday in America in February it is to be remembered that the boy scouts of America celebrate their birthday in the same month in which the first president of the United States was born. We as boy scouts and as little citizens of our community feel proud of our birthday in February and because of this fact we will do all in our power to live the life of our first president, George Washington. When a real scout hears the name of George Washington, he is reminded of the greatest scout that ever lived, because he was skilled in wood-craft, nature study, character and the ability to go forth under any condition.

We boys of Bay St. Louis were brought together by Dr. E. J. Anderson eleven months ago and our present Boy Scout Troop was organized, and in this past eleven months we spent fifteen days at the boy scout camp, Camp Salmon Slidell, La., from which place we brought home to Bay St. Louis, the championship basketball team of the camp's fourth period, rifle shot and track meet, and not only have we accomplished these things at camp in the past eleven months but between school hours made the scout craft on display at the Beach Drug Store during scout week.

Next month, March, 1932 we expect to celebrate not only our troop anniversary, but the American Flag known as the Mrs. Virginia Woods achievement flag, which we also won in the past eleven months for having maintained a standard troop of 25 boys or more. We Boy Scouts of Bay St. Louis wish to thank our sponsors, The American Legion, our scoutmaster, Dr. Anderson, Mr. Gordon Boswell, Dr. L. Dickson, commander of the Legion Post, the Woman's Auxiliary of the American Legion and its president, Mrs. Laurent Dickson, and the Perkins family for the scout home we have. To Mr. Vick Cuevas for the donation of the all-electric orphonic, Mr. H. S. Renshaw, the Bay Mercantile Co. and to the many others who have been so generous towards our development.

We as boy scouts of America ask our community to join in with us on February 22, 1932 in the celebration of the two hundredth anniversary of George Washington.

Bay Chamber of Commerce Voices Opposition to Bill

Get Free A. & G. Theater Tickets

Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce went on record during the week as voicing opposition to the proposed 3 per cent gross tax sale bill by forwarding separate telegrams to Representative Flemings of Hancock and Senator Lumpkin of this district expressing the desire that they do not approve nor ultimately vote for the bill.

It is pointed out that such a proposed tax would not only prove disastrous to the already narrow margin of profits on business, and while it is planned after the adoption of this bill to cut the ad valorem tax the latter would prove of profit to railroads and all other large tax-payers but to the contrary to the mercantile and other trade business.

Unable to send a delegation or representative to the state-wide meeting held at Jackson Wednesday morning, sponsored by the Natchez Chamber of Commerce, the telegrams of protest were forwarded in lieu.

BAY W. B. A. TO ATTEND PAGEANT

Bay St. Louis Branch of Woman's Benefit Association To Attend Chicago Spectacle.

Members of the Woman's Benefit Association in Bay St. Louis have just received word of the invitation to present again their spectacular W. B. A. Pageant in the Century of Progress Exposition to be held in Chicago in 1933. The Pageant was an event of 1931 in Soldier Field, Chicago, which now forms a part of the new Exposition grounds.

Ten thousand participants in colorful costume at that time presented the history of woman's effort from Pioneer days and the repetition of this beautiful picture which was reviewed by over 85,000 in July last, will appropriately form a part of the Century of Progress program.

The invitations from the South Park Commission of Chicago and also the State Street Council have been accepted by Supreme President Bina West Miller. The 3000 local groups of the Association are advised by President Miller: "The Century of Progress" Exhibition will be the world's greatest and most wonderful exhibition. Chicago has been preparing for years for this event and has created an entirely new setting on Lake Michigan that will surpass anything of the kind ever given in this country. Every country in the world will have its own building and exhibit."

President Miriam Engman and the officers of Review No. 10 will make special plans to help represent the state at the Grand Banquet, and in the Pageant of Progress, an experience which will not again be duplicated in the life time of several generations.

Travel clubs are now being planned in every state by members of the Woman's Benefit Association and a week's program will be arranged. Headquarters for the Association will be in the Women's Building on the Exposition Grounds where all important and outstanding women's activities will be displayed. Friday afternoon, February 12, the entire student body of the Central School and the Parent-Teachers Association jointly observed Washington Bi-Centennial and National Arbor Day by planting a lovely live Xmas tree, the gift of the P. T. A., with an interesting and appropriate program. The students marched out on the school lawn and formed a large quadrangle about the tree.

Supt. Ingram acted as Master of Ceremonies and the program was as follows:

First Grade—Flag song and Washington song.

Second Grade, song, Trees.

Third Grade, "Trees," Margaret Ansley.

"What Trees Teach Us," Third Grade group.

Fourth Grade, "Trees," Cecelia Osinach.

Fifth Grade, poem "Planting A Tree," Richard Logan.

This was followed by a representative from each class in the school putting a shafel of earth on the tree after which Dr. Dickson, representing the American Legion and Mrs. R. B. Logan in behalf of the P. T. A. did likewise. Visitors, parents and the faculty were then entertained in the domestic science room at a tea in celebration of the 35th Anniversary of the National Congress of Parent and Teachers.

The candle lighting ceremony was effectively carried out and many thanks are due Mrs. Gordon Boswell and her hospitality committee composed of Mrs. A. T. Terry, Mrs. E. S. Drake and Mrs. James McConnell, Jr., for their perfect arrangement.

A short business meeting of the P. T. A. was held prior to the outdoor program at which it was decided to give an Easter-Egg hunt for the benefit of the P. T. A. treasury and the committee in charge was appointed with Mrs. J. B. Goldman as chairman. Date and details will be announced later.

ROTARIANS HEAR REV. W. J. LEECH

Speaks of "Ireland" on Occasion of International Service Day Observance.

Bay St. Louis Rotary Club at the Oriole Wednesday presented an international service program, with Rev. Wm. J. Leech, Pass Christian Rotarian the honor guest of the Club and principal speaker of the day. His subject, "Ireland."

Before the speaker was formally presented, it was stated that this program was in line with prescribed provisions of Rotary organizations, and that such a program was occasionally presented. It was also said that Rotary now flourished in sixty countries, under that many separate flags and that the organization encircled the world. Rotary is not local, but international. Card programs at each member's plate at the luncheon table carried the picture of a foreign flag in correct colors and a small holder for several different flags formed the center piece of the speakers table.

Father Leech, native of Ireland, and a student of the history of his beloved country, said, among many things of interest that the country was of such size that it was smaller than the State of Mississippi, 10,000 square miles less; that it would take its size five times to cover England, but what it may lack in size it made up in history of many centuries before St. Patrick set foot on the emerald isle. He spoke of its beauty and history, restricting himself chiefly to its ancient history, engaging his hearers steadfast during the apparently all-too-short period.

When asked for a present day expression about Ireland and its freedom, he briefly referred to the limitations of freedom, and the listener might form for himself an opinion in the premises when he said Ireland paid into the British treasury the sum of ten million dollars annually.

Father Leech is a free and easy speaker, engaging, and knows his subject faithfully and fully, portraying an unusual memory as to historical facts and dates.

Gulf Park Entertainment For Rotary Benefit.

A communication was read from President Richard Cox which gave the Bay Rotary Club a complimentary presentation of an entertainment of unusual merit by the Glee Club and Pirottee Club of Gulf Park College. John McDonald was named chairman of another committee on arrangements, to be named later. The original entertainment will be given at Gulf Park College.

In view of the fact the Rotary Club conducts a free night school for boys and girls, as well as for adults, the proceeds will be used by the club for its own treasury replenishment.

HATS OFF TO THE RAIDROAD MEN.

ONE of the biggest things that ever happened in the United States, from an industrial standpoint, is the decision of the unionized forces of our railroads to take a 10 per cent wage reduction, effective at once and to be in force one year.

For the first time in history, presidents of the railroads and the heads of the labor organizations sat down at a conference table and worked out a wage agreement based on the plain facts involved, without threats of strikes or arbitrary action on either side. Lawyers were used only to help work the articles of agreement.

Thus, railroad labor and railroad executives have established a new precedent in settling a problem of industry. This is an outstanding step toward stabilizing business conditions in the United States and its effect will be far-reaching.

THREE IN ONE.

THREE daily newspapers of Mobile have combined under single ownership and hereafter rather than three separate publications, the Gulf City in future will only have one morning and one evening newspaper.

The Mobile Register will serve the morning clientele and one of the other two papers as the afternoon press. This is done, it was stated, to avoid merchants from having to duplicate their advertising and to retrench in cost of newspaper publication in times when depression has hit newspapers hardest, to say nothing of radio competition regarding national advertising.

CONCERNING PROSPERITY.

PROSPERITY is a relative condition.

Compared to our immediate ancestors the people of the United States are enjoying themselves. Compared to our recent national splurge of extravagance we are suffering.

The man who used to make a salary of large proportion and spent it all, without saving anything, might have imagined he was prosperous but he has another thought today. The man, today, who is not making so much, but is living within his income and saving something, may not think he is prosperous but, at any rate, he is on the way.

Maybe Congress will start an investigation and find out what happened to winter.

This is a little early but optimistic souls are beginning to get the spring garden fever.

The man who used to drive two automobiles is now walking to his work for the exercise he gets.

Many a man has an idea that he is doing right 'till his wife tells him just what he amounts to.

Times are duller than we thought—the Literary Digest is dishing out another poll on prohibition.

It's almost time for good times to begin to arrive; even Congress is doing everything possible to start something.

Borrowing money when it is plentiful and paying it back when it is hard to get is what makes poor people poorer.

While the people of the United States are worrying about the Chinese killed at Shanghai they might take out enough time to think about the thousands that die every year in this country from ruthless auto drivers.

It is interesting to note the Weston Lumber Company is planting hundreds of oaks and other hardwood and shade trees along the Old Spanish Trail on lands owned by the company in Hancock county. Beautifying the trail in such permanent manner, for present and future generations cannot be commended too highly.

The longer the Old Spanish Trail is detoured through Lakeshore and down the Waveland and Bay St. Louis beach front, the more we are convinced that this routing should be permanent. Travelers "see" Bay St. Louis and the business section does a little more business and are helped to pay the burdensome taxes that make the beach and other hard-surfaced roads possible.

It is interesting to note that the Gulf Coast baseball league again has been organized for this season and that the summer sport will again come into organized force on the Gulf Coast. Arthur W. Lang was elected president of the league and Norton Haas, former manager of the Waveland club, vice president. Two outstanding citizens of the Gulf Coast.

New Orleans staged a successful "dollar sale" Wednesday, according to report. Another effective way of getting out the hoarded dollar that President Hoover seems to be dilating on so much of late. Smaller towns might have their "dime sales." Anything to supply the consumer with more and better goods at cheaper prices and help circulate the dollar. Economists say the country is safe but its dollar is too dormant.

RELIABLE ADVERTISING PAYS.

NEW standards of advertising practice have been compiled by the sales promotion division of the National Retail Drygoods Association, which recently met in annual convention. The purpose of the code is to preserve "truth in advertising" by prescribing a set of standards which can be followed by all merchants in order to maintain complete consumer confidence and to prevent undermining the advertisement investments of all sellers.

The code insists that advertising should not only be truthful but should at all times avoid even the semblance of untruth or the suspicion of insincerity. It prohibits the misuse of superlative that destroy belief in advertising; asks that misleading phrases and statements, inaccurate illustrations and confusing copy be avoided and urges that the natural content of merchandise be accurately stated.

The Sea Coast Echo calls this matter to the attention of its advertisers, not because it is the custom in Bay St. Louis to violate the principles of honest advertising, but because, very rarely, irresponsible advertisers do attempt to make use of the confidence that advertising in general has won from the readers of The Echo.

Our idea is also to call this matter to the attention of our readers who watch the advertisements appearing in The Echo. They should learn to discriminate between the wild claims of irresponsible sellers and the reliable efforts of honest merchants to properly present their wares to the public. In buying, one makes no mistake to deal with a business that has a reputation for square dealing in its transactions, both in the merchandise and in the advertising fields.

A decided falling off in automobile accidents is noted, says an authority and close observer. Is it the excessively-taxed gasoline or other phases of stressed times responsible?

FAILING TO REMOVE A MENACE.

A LETTER appeared in the columns of this newspaper last week wherein it was stated that the federal government was without authority and funds to remove the iron hulk of an old iron lighthouse ship sunk off Bay St. Louis in a depth of approximately six feet and three thousand feet from local shore land.

It was contended in this letter from the federal engineering department in answer to one by Commander Dickson of the local legion post asking for removal of this hidden menace to all navigation, small or big, that this danger lurking in hidden water was not a hazard since experienced seamen of these waters knew of the sunken wreck.

This should not be sufficient excuse or reason to stop here. It appears to The Echo that the matter might be taken up direct with representatives of this State and the matter dealt with in such manner as to receive such attention as sought.

The cost of blowing up the hulk, which has lain in its present grave for high seventy years, and good for another lengthy period, is negligible, and an experience of recent time which could have proven costlier than it did might occur. There is no use of taking chances.

About the most interesting phenomena connected with motorists is the senseless horn blowing that follows a traffic jam.

MILD WINTER AND THE COAST.

EXTREME mild weather North and through the Middle West has in more than ordinary measure been responsible for the paucity of winter visitors to the Gulf Coast this winter.

Much is blamed to depressed finances. This in a measure might be responsible for comparatively few migrating from home to warmer climes and sub-tropical atmosphere like that of the Mississippi Gulf Coast, but we are rather inclined to believe that the unseasonable weather that has prevailed throughout the winter in the cold and freezing zones is a factor more responsible than anything else.

But this be as it might, the Mississippi Gulf Coast has thousands, possibly more, friends who have felt the lure of the Coast and failing to visit this off year, the visit and stay is only postponed to another season. The lure of the Coast is ever present; none of the beauty of this section ever fades. And if the adverse financial condition has been responsible, then we may view this cause as only a transitory factor.

We look to the future with that same optimism as in the past, and it is certain the minority in opposition to this belief is infinitesimally small. Values might be temporarily stagnant, but our chief asset, the "lure of the Gulf Coast" lives on.

You have to admit that the Japanese idea of a defensive attack is novel, if not altogether new in the history of the world.

CONFLICT AT GENEVA.

THE nations have gathered at Geneva to see if there is a chance to effect satisfactory agreements relating to disarmament.

From France has come a proposed international police force, under the League of Nations. Great Britain, the United States and Italy propose certain definite bans on fighting instruments. Japan, saying little, favors some of these bans and asserts she is ready to join other nations in disarmament.

Before the conference convened it was apparent that the French demand for security would be the rock upon which the parley would split. For the French security is not taken to include only the fixation of certain borders, but the guarantee that the French people will have assurance of bread to eat.

It is too early to say that the conference will fail entirely. It is safe to assume that some kind of agreement will be reached, but that it will go deep into the root of the question of armaments is to be doubted.

Senator Huey P. Long has purchased a palatial home at New Orleans and his unkind critics will yap-yap some more.

VIEWS OF OUR NEWS

By Chicagoan

A Review of the News of Last Week's Echo.

CHICAGO, ILL., Feb. 16.—Under the sponsorship of the P. T. A. announces the Echo, Bay St. Louis will join the rest of the nation in a most fitting observance of the birth of the Father of His Country. Thoughtful citizens will contrast the difficulties confronting Washington with the questions perplexing public men today. When this is done the first President looms even greater as a statesman than we would otherwise regard him. Today the values of the world are based on the American dollar. When George Washington became President the currency issued by the Continental Congress had become the symbol of worthlessness. The next time you say or hear "It isn't worth a continental," remember that the phrase refers to an erstwhile American dollar. That will remind you that the first President like the latest of his successors, faced some serious problems in national finance.

When Bay Scouts who with their leaders, Dr. Anderson and Edw. Jones, observed National Scout Week, follow the rules of their splendid organization they learn much that came to Washington as a matter of course. Among the first things we learn about him (after his cherry tree chopping) is that he was employed to make a survey of the vast estate of that friend of his family, Lord Fairfax. From this and many other things we know that Washington knew and loved the great outdoors. Later this knowledge was put to good use in the service of his country. It's very easy to imagine the young George as a leading Boy Scout.

Among the correspondence unearthed by the Washington Bicentennial commission is a letter General Washington wrote in answer to the advertisement of a draper in a nearby city. The draper was ordered to dispatch certain of the advertised materials to Mt. Vernon and later a suit of clothing was made from them for Washington by his personal tailor. So you see, even in those early days great men had already acquired the habit of reading advertisements, thus saving themselves time and the bother of running hither and yon in search of the things they desired. The example of the draper who secured George Washington as a customer, has been followed down to our own time in which you will find Jos. O. Mauffray and other live merchants of the Bay City advertise in the Echo. They are today saving their customers' time, energy and money by displaying their wares in a newspaper that in all likelihood has a circulation much larger than the colonial sheet in which a draper attracted the attention of George Washington.

When Washington found it necessary to make a trip from his Virginia estate to Philadelphia or New York, arrangements were made, no doubt for relays of horses in case those drawing his coach became exhausted. Wouldn't Washington have been amazed if he had heard of Mayor Schwartz of Waveland starting for the Biloxi Carnival with nary a horse? Yes, and imagine the expression that would come to his noble countenance if he saw the array of new automobiles at the auto show? If he had forsaken his dignity and leap for safety while crossing city streets he might wonder for just a moment whether he did the right thing by his country when he started the whole thing anyway.

Were there any whose minds had wandered to the days of the past, they were rudely jerked back to the present day and its troubles when the alarm announced the fire which threatened St. Stanislaus College Friday evening. Fire, like war, leaves nothing but ashes and broken hearts in its wake. Prevention of fires, like prevention of wars, is more economical and productive of happiness than fighting them. The world is pretty well agreed on the proper way to cope with serious conflagrations. When will the world learn how to prevent the embers of greed and hate that slumber in the human heart from bursting into flame each time a gust of passion strikes them?

Thinking of patriotic men and institutions it is well to recognize those factors right in Bay St. Louis which are among the most patriotic. The newspaper perhaps renders greater service to the community than any other commercial institution in proportion to the compensation it receives. But its work and its sacrifices are performed without complaint. As I read this good newspaper I see that it labors well. It is not a calamity howler, neither does it

THE ENGINEER AND OUR RAILROADS

By JOHN T. MEYERS
(For The Sea Coast Echo)

Clanging bells issue a warning to motorists on the busy thoroughfare. Grade crossing gates are lowered as a shrill, penetrating, whistle announces the approach of the Limited just around the bend. Amid the snow-white haze of escaping steam, this gigantic iron monster embodying power, force, and beauty rolls into view.

In his cab, with hand on the throttle and an ever-alert eye on the tracks ahead sits the engineer. He is the undisputed master of this mighty monarch of the rails. A fleeting glimpse of his weather-beaten face portrays a grim determination to fulfill the duty and responsibility charged to his care. And when nightfall overtakes his train, this engineer will be doubly watchful and cautious. His one thought is for the safety of the many lives depending upon his skill and judgment. And which by railroad tradition and ethics he must not falter. . . . he dare not fail.

Standing shoulder to shoulder with the engineer in an effort to render efficient, safe, and comfortable transportation to a traveling public are many other employees of the railroad system. Each one carries out his part with the sincerity and loyalty that characterizes the great army of men and women who make "railroading" their profession.

The railroad systems throughout the United States blazed the path for today's civilization. To places of wilderness and desolation they have brought cities and progress. The gates of today's commerce were opened by the foresight of pioneer railroad men. And the railroad companies have kept abreast the modern day demand for traveling comforts and luxury.

One may travel by train with all the comforts and conveniences of a first class hotel at their disposal. No other mode of travel can offer so much in the way of pleasure and safety at such moderate rates as can be furnished by the ticket agent of your railroad.

An Old Story Of Waste In Governmental Printing

The Detroit News prints some interesting facts taken from a recent issue by the public printer of the United States Government.

"A million dollars' worth of books and pamphlets comprising 23,899,839 pieces that were designed for sale for free distribution during the past 10 years have been sold for waste paper," the Detroit News says.

"Millions of copies of Government publications are 'allotted to members of Congress regardless of the special needs of these that the Congressmen can't think of enough people to send them to. Lately 2,000,000 such public documents that never had been removed from their wrappings were disposed of as waste paper."

"Last year, while people were worrying over a billion-dollar deficit in the cost of running the government Congressmen used 25,390,900 envelopes in mailing out, free of postage, their speeches. At the same time, the Postmaster-General, bawling the deficit in his department, was pleading for an increase in letter postage from two to three cents."

These particular figures are new, but the gross abuse of the "ranking" privilege, and the waste and extravagance characteristic of printing these government publications, is an old story. Even so, however, we doubt if any of the worthy Congressmen will consider this a good place at which to begin to practice economy. Too many of them need the vote-getting appeal of these publications.

PROHIBITION COST TO GOVERNMENT ESTIMATED TO TOP SIX BILLIONS

Arrests and Deaths from Alcoholism Mount, Says Witnesses—Government Has Expended Three Hundred Millions on Futile Attempt to Enforce Law.

An Associated Press dispatch from Washington Monday states that witnesses favoring legalization of 4 per cent beer testified before a Senate committee that arrests and deaths from alcoholism have mounted under prohibition and that the government has lost more than $6,000,000,000 in revenue and the expense of enforcement.

The statements came from Samuel M. Shultz of Washington, national secretary of the Constitutional Rights Association of America, and Stanley Shirk of New York, research director of the Moderation League.

Would Question McBride.

When no opponents of the measure came forward to testify, Senator Hiram Bingham, Republican, Connecticut, said he would like to have Dr. F. Scott McBride of the Anti-Saloon League take the stand at the next meeting set for February 19.

"I have a number of questions I would like to ask him about the activities of the Anti-Saloon League and its attitude toward the bill before us," Bingham said.

Chairman Jesse H. Metcalf, Republican, Rhode Island, said he had requested McBride to testify at the previous hearing in summation of the case against the bill but that the league's lawyer had been sent instead.

McBride has been a spectator at most of the hearings, which began more than a month ago. He was not present today, however. Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, was in the audience.

Heavy Cost Pointed Out.

Shultz read a lengthy statement in which he undertook to refute testimony given at previous hearings by witnesses against the bill and said:

"Taking 1919 as the basis of computation, we find that the federal government in 12 years of national prohibition has lost $5,796,610,253 in revenue without reducing to any appreciable extent the amount of alcoholic beverages consumed in the United States as compared with 1919.

"The government has expended in round figures $300,000,000 in a futile attempt to enforce the law."

In answer to questions from Chairman Metcalf, he said arrests from drunkenness have increased more rapidly in the "so-called dry states" than in the "wet states."

CURRENT COMMENT

THERE are few, who, at one time or another, have not had a collection of postage stamps. Stamp collecting used to be a simple matter. It consisted in tearing the stamps from the old love letters in the leather covered trunk in the garret, and pasting them in a book. The pastime is more intricate now. At present, one has to have the stamps on the envelopes, and cancelled at a certain place on a definite date. The government looks kindly on the advance that has been made in the methods of stamp collecting. For instance, those who want the new Washington Bi-Centennial stamps in the condition above pointed out, may send a reasonable number of letters, properly stamped and addressed, under cover, to the postmaster at Mount Vernon, Virginia, well in advance of George Washington's birthday, and they will be postmarked on that date.

CLIMBING MOUNTAIN MUST BE STOPPED.

Years ago, Mr. Longfellow wrote a poem about young people who get into trouble by having mistaken ambitions. It related to a boy who tried to scale the Alps after he had been told not to. The opening stanza will enbale almost everyone to recall the poem:

"The shades of night were falling fast,
As through an Alpine village passed
A youth who bore mid snow and ice,
A banner with that strange device:
Excelsior."

New Hampshire reports that so many lads have been killed in attempting to climb Mount Washington in the winter, that the practice must be stopped. Longfellow did not do anything startling when he wrote a poem on the general subject, "Boys will be boys." The poet deserves some credit, however, for selecting an illustration that is in point several generations after he laid down his pen.

WHO IS TO TALK FIRST?

The parley at Geneva does not seem to be opening so auspiciously. If the delegates can stir up a fairly good scrimmage over the question as to who is to talk first, what will they do when they really get down to business?

FITTED FOR THE TASK.

Andrew Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury, has left that post to become United States Minister to England. The place is not a profitable one, considering the demands made on the funds of the incumbent. Money considerations will not trouble Mr. Mellon, and his mind can be occupied solely with the duties of his office. He has other qualifications. A long life spent in the doing of things of importance should fit him for his task. England greets Mr. Mellon kindly. Few on this side of the water will question his ability to represent the country at the Court of St. James.

Each day we have to take a new look at some place which we have been accustomed to view through the mellow light of the long ago. Jerusalem is worried about missing airplanes, and a radio broadcasting station is being installed at Mount Vernon.

In a debate on preparedness, conducted by well known speakers, each side produces nuts which are hard to crack. The pacifists state that "War cannot result in victory for any warring nation." According to the militarists, "If China were entirely prepared, she could not only have peace in Manchuria, but she would still own Manchuria." It will take quite a little mental effort to pull either statement to pieces.

Flat Top News.

The Flat Top P-T. A. held their last meeting for the year. Every one met with a splendid spirit and rendered a fine program. Owing to the fact that this was the last meeting there was a lot of business to be taken up. Mrs. John B. Wheat, president of the organization, was elected as a delegate to the State Association to be held in Meridian, Miss. The same officers were elected for the coming year, namely, Miss Elva Henderson, secretary; Mrs. John B. Wheat, president and Mrs. Sam Martin, vice-president.

Mrs. Sam Martin is back home from New Orleans where she has been with her husband, in the Marine hospital. Mr. Martin underwent a serious operation some few days ago, but Mrs. Martin reports that he is improving fast and will not return home until some time in March. Mr. Martin was carried to the hospital on December 27.

Owing to financial conditions all the county schools will close with six and one half months. As teachers, we regret this very much, but whose fault is it? Anyone with common sense can easily say why. Some one has suggested that we teachers give a month and a half, but we don't feel that we should carry the burdens of the county. We teachers at Flat Top are going to give two weeks free of charge. If every voter in the county would give one day's work we could run the schools eight months. We thank our County Superintendent of Education for the cooperation that he has given us and we realize that his hands are tied but we hope they are unloosed soon.

Successful Series Basketball Games For Bay High

Two defeats at the hands of Biloxi, here Tuesday night, climaxed a rather unsuccessful series of cage fights for Bay High. The Indians trounced the Tigers, 36-14, and the Biloxi Squaws defeated the Blizzards 15 to 10. Friday night Bay High split a double header with Kiln Vocational, losing to the boys' team, 17-12, and winning from the girls, 10-8. The Tigers leave Saturday for Hattiesburg, where they will play Hattiesburg Hi.

In the Kiln-Bay Hi boys' game, the Tigers started off well and at the half intermission commanded an 11-8 lead. In the second half the tables turned, however, and Kiln formed an air tight defense that held the Bay to no field goals and one free shot, while their offense measured 9 points. Bontemps took the scoring honors with 10 points, while Peterson of Kiln accounted for 4 field goals. Moran of the Tigers and L. Garriga of Kiln also did well.

The Kiln girls' game was also interesting with one team leading and then the other. The score stood 8-8 and a minute of play, when Velma Manieri brought the Bay lasses to the front with a field goal. Maud Wikstrom of Kiln and Lois Ansley of Bay Hi were high scorers with 6 points each.

When the Biloxi Indians defeated the Tigers they showed a beautiful combination both defensively and offensively. Wallace played a wonderful game at center for Biloxi and Helvenston stood out at the forward position, the latter leading the individual scoring with 13 points. Bontemps again played best for Bay Hi, and made 9 of the team's 14 points while playing only three quarters.

In the girls' game, Bay Hi played

COMMENT ON SPORTS BY SHERIDAN

AMAZING U. S. TRIUMPH SHEA AND JAFFEE WIN TUNNEY CRITICIZES DEMPSEY JACKS COME BACK ODDS AND ENDS.

The United States got off to a running, or rather a skating, start in the Winter Olympics at Lake Placid, New York, when Jack Shea won the 500-mile meter race and followed it with a smashing triumph in the 1500-meter title test. In addition, Irving Jaffee won the 5,000-meter race.

These two boys got the United States all three of the first championships to be decided and a point score of 42, which lacked only eight points of its total in the 1928 Olympics and was far ahead of the 29 points tallied in the 1924 Olympic games.

The first heats of the 10,000 meter race were followed by a stream of protests unprecedented in the annals of the Olympics. The Scandinavian delegation complained bitterly of the slowness of the early race. This year the speed skating races are being held in the American style which is not relished by the Europeans who are accustomed to each man racing against time. The generalship and maneuvering of the Americans and Canadians who stayed back behind a slow pace and then hit their racing speeds for the final circuit were disconcerting and bewildering to the foreigners.

As a result of the protests, the 10,000-meter heats were re-run but with the same results. For a while it seemed that there would be no race, as the Americans objected to entering another qualifying test. Finally, however, officials ordered the race and the Americans lined up for the start.

The second qualifying test brought in the same skaters for the final, which was won by Irving Jaffee, allowing the American flag to rise to the top of the central mast for the fourth straight time in token of victory. This country became the 1st to win all four skating laurels, and officials and spectators danced in glee. Both Shea and Jaffee plan to go to Oslo, Norway, in March, as members of an American team to oppose four Norwegians.

Another triumph for this country came when Hubert Stevens and his brother Curtis, set a new record for the two-man bob-sled championship. Until the last of the four rides, Capadutt, of Switzerland, seemed far enough ahead to win but the American team's total time for the series was 8:14-74 against 8:16-28 for the Zurich sophomores.

Gene Tunney starts a discussion by asserting his autobiography, now being published in a magazine that Dempsey had "an extraordinary lack of confidence in himself" and that before their first match in Philadelphia a boxing promoter was so impressed by this fact that he heaped his bets on Tunney also credits this factor with preventing a bout with Harry Wills.

In reply, Dempsey says that he was anxious to fight Wills but that Rickard did not believe such a match between mixed races could be held. Eventually he signed for the fight but found that Rickard was right and got himself involved in much litigation as a result. Dempsey denied having any conversation in Philadelphia, as reported by Tunney, and declared that he never had any doubt his fighting ability while champion and that even today, "I may get socked all over the place, twenty wounds but if I can get over one hay-maker, that is all I need."

Dempsey, when asked whether Tunney showed lack of courage by running away from him after he had been knocked down in the seventh (long count) round of their Chicago fight, said, "No, I think he used good judgment. . . . He had to protect himself and that was the best way to do it. I have always thought Tunney was a game fighter."

Dempsey declared that he only knew of one kind of courage and that "go a head and fight and keep punching until you win or lose." For the fighting game, it is the kind that makes spectators come into the gates and get soaked all over the place. The fighter always draws a crowd and anybody that ever saw Dempsey in the ring knew without being told that he was in there for business.

Gar Wood's effort to secure the speedboat record of the world has resulted in a clash over the jurisdiction of the Yachman's Association of America and the American Power Boat Association. The former recognizes the new time of 111.712 but the latter does not. Officials of the first named organization insist that it is the American member of the International Motor Yachting Union and that the record would go down officially as a world mark.

Japan will be represented this year at the British and American Open Golf championship Match by Tomokichi Miyamoto, twice the open champion of Japan. He can hardly speak a word of English. At San Francisco, he carried Billie Burke American open champion to the twentieth hole. . . . Jack Sharkey says he is ready to fight Dempsey again regardless of the outcome of his match with Schmeling in June.

The Squaws point for point during the first two periods but were completely shut out, except for a foul shot by the Biloxi team in the second half.

LANG OF PASS IS PRES'T, WHILE HAAS WAVELAND, V. PRES'T.

Mississippi Coast Baseball League Elects Heads for Summer Season—Board Directors.

Arthur W. Lang was elected president and high commissioner of the Mississippi Coast Baseball League at a meeting of the directors at Gulfport Monday night. Norton Haas, former manager of the Waveland club, was named vice-president.

Mr. Lang is well known throughout the state and his baseball experience in the old Cotton States League was one of the qualifications prompting the representatives of the six coast cities to cast their votes empowering him to be the sole judge of controversies during the season. He succeeds Benjamin D. Wiler of Biloxi who was transferred from the city by the United States Coast Guard base.

Directors of the league are J. P. Usher of Waveland, Fred Payard of Bay St. Louis, Joseph Bertucci of Pass Christian, L. A. Kenneth of Gulfport, Fred Klein of Biloxi and Harry Westbrook of Ocean Springs. Two new managers were appointed. Fred Payard, head of the Bay St. Louis club, announced the selection of Victor Luc, veteran ball player, as bench manager of the Bay team while President J. P. Usher of the Waveland Club appointed T. J. Bourgeois playing manager of the Waveland club. Bourgeois is probably the youngest manager of the circuit while Luc makes the third veteran ball player to be appointed to pilot a team in the coast loop this season. Gulfport named the veteran Bob Dana while Biloxi reappointed Frank Hightower after he led the Biloxi club to the championship last year.

WORK AND PLAY AT S. J. A.

BILOXI FALLS TO S. J. A.

Saturday night, February 13, the Gold Jays met the Biloxi Squaws in the S. S. C. gym and how they did meet them! In the first quarter the score for each team was well nigh equal, but at the end of the half the Jays were ten points in the lead. However, "our team" was not going to have a "walk away" victory, by any means, and they soon realized this when in the second half the Squaws gradually climbed up until the Jays were in the lead by only two points 20-18. What excitement reigned! Shouts, cheers and yells echoed throughout the entire gym, and so great was the enthusiasm shown it seemed as if the gym would collapse under the noise.

The truthness and excitement increased and reached a climax when in the last half of the fourth quarter, Nicholena St. Angelo, our splendid guard was put out on fouls and the Biloxi girls ran up their score within two points of that of the Jays. But our little Gold Jays maintained a splendid defensive, finally succeeded in recovering the ball and in the last minute of play caged the pretty shot which brought their final score to 24 points ahead of Biloxi. Nicholena St. Angelo, Evelyn Perre Alice Camors, Ann Partridge, Frances Scaife, Catherine Scaife and Frances Vincent represented S. J. A. in this never-to-be-forgotten victory over Biloxi. A victory which had been the dream of the Gold Jays for the past four years. Particularly since the spring of 1930 when the Biloxi girls snatched the cup from our Jays by a two point lead in the finals of the tournament of that year. Having proved what they could do, having realized their dream of years, the Jays are happy now. So to all are we all proud of them.

COLLEGE BOYS ALSO VICTORIOUS OVER BILOXI.

In a fine game which immediately followed the girls' game at the college gym last Saturday night the S. C. boys won a closely contested victory over the Biloxi Indians. Congratulations S. S. C. not only for the game but also for the other two victories which the past week has brought to you. The Jays are with you and wish to thank you for the splendid cooperation shown to them during the game last Saturday.

RED STICKERS AND JAYS TO MEET AGAIN SATURDAY.

Miss Evelyn Nix, the prefect of the Academy Sodality will represent S. J. A. Other speakers will also take part in the discussions. S. J. A.'s contribution to the program will be the dramatization of an old legend concerning the Blessed Virgin. Twelve Sodalties will sing Gounard's Ave Maria, while the legend is being pantomimed by nine other Sodalties.

THE WAY OUT.

If we were a little wiser, Little more unlike the miser, We could puncture this depression. In a jiffy, if we would, Let me tell you how to do it, You will win and never rue it, Simply start the proud procession, Spending what you know you should.

Make the money you have hidden, Like some tempting fruit forbidden, Swell a golden circulation, Sure to speed us to the top. Can your craven self-denying, Set the bloated all to buying, Start to spending and the nation Soon shall reap a golden crop.

Buried wealth is dead as Hector, Though as sweet to some as nectar, Hoarding is a conduct cruel. In these times of stress and strain.

Grab your pick and set to digging, Robe yourself in fancy rigging, Better burn your cash for fuel, So it stay depression's pain.

Better start the world to smiling, Then your sordid self beguiling, With the consciousness of treasure While the hungry beg for bread. Better be a stern dispenser, Of the mammon of the miser, Better squander without measure, So a million mouths be fed.

Make your money be so busy, That its dancing makes you dizzy, Turn it into delirium, For the multitudes that more. It will thrill your heart with rapture, Sweet contentment, you will capture, For the folks of every station, You will find and thrill with hope.

—DAVID E. GUYTON, Blue Mountain, Mississippi.

HOW THE TWO-MILLION RECONSTRUCTION BILL WILL AID FARMERS

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon's Appointment by President Hoover a Surprise—General News Items and Comment By Our Own Representative.

By Representative Robert S. Hall of South Mississippi (Correspondence Sea Coast Echo.)

CAPITOL HILL, February 15.—Secretary of Agriculture Hyde has announced rules and regulations under which loans may be obtained out of the 50-million-dollar fund allocated to agriculture by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation Act. Four hundred dollars is the maximum amount that may be loaned to a borrower and $1,600 is the maximum that may be loaned the tenants of one landlord in a single county. Loans must be secured by first liens on the 1932 crop and the interest rate is 5 1/2 per cent. Preference will be given farmers whose crops failed last year. Persons not engaging in farming last year and minors are ineligible for loans. Applications for loans must be in Washington office not later than April 30, 1932, and are payable on or before November 30, 1932. Applications will be filed with county seed loan advisory committees subsequently to be appointed by the Secretary of Agriculture and loans for Mississippi will be handled through the Memphis office.

It is gratifying to note that the Federal Farm Loan System was able to provide the additional loans necessitated last year by depressed economic conditions. As a great number of farmers are solely dependent upon the system for operating capital, it is highly important that its efficiency be not impaired. According to official reports, 1931 loans aggregated 307 million dollars or an increase of approximately 35 millions over the 1930 total. Intermediate credit banks lent 259 millions, the land banks, 42 millions and the joint stock land banks, 5 1/2 millions.

CHARITABLE organizations engaging in unemployment relief work may now obtain clothing and shoes from the government at a nominal price. Pursuant to a request by the rehabilitation committee of the American Legion, the House Military Affairs committee asked the War Department to sell to such relief organizations as it might approve surplus Army clothing at 50 per cent the current price, which is exceptionally low. The War Department has approved the plan, and distribution will be made through the various crops area commanders.

PRESIDENT HOOVER sprung a real surprise when he appointed Secretary Mellon to the Court of Saint James, the most coveted post in the diplomatic service. In fact, the whole transaction is veiled in mystery. Someday the President eased Mr. Mellon out of the Treasury because they could not see his so-called inflation policy eye to eye. However that may be, notwithstanding Mr. Mellon's previous declaration that he would never quit under fire, he made his exit with impeachment charges filed by Representative Patman hanging over his head. Had Mr. Mellon completed his third term, he would have equaled the record of Albert Gallatin, who served as Secretary of the Treasury from 1801 to 1815.

PERADVENTURE this springlike weather keeps up for forty days—counting from February 2, or ground-hog day. Mr. Robert B. Howell, of the Biological Survey, United States Department of Agriculture, is going to be in a pickle. Mr. Howell has stated emphatically that the ground hog is not and never has been a bona fide weather prophet. Furthermore, he contends that the popular notion that the ground hog will, if it sees its shadow on ground-hog day, scamper back into its hole for forty more days of winter is a superstition with only a whimsical foundation. Be that as it may, faith in the ground hog, as a weather prognosticator, is too deeply grounded to be uprooted by the adverse opinion of the skeptical. It is now up to the ground hog to prove its case. Certainly it did not see its shadow last ground-hog day, and it has been virtually springtime ever since; so it will be interesting to see which wins out—Mr. Howell or Mr. Ground Hog.

Winter Takes Day Off In East, 100,000 Persons Seek Seashore

New York, Feb. 8.—Winter took a holiday yesterday and hot dog vendors and lemonade peddlers enjoyed unexpected prosperity.

The day started with the mercury around 37 degrees, but by early afternoon the silvery fluid rose almost 20 notches. In the interim more than 100,000 persons flocked to the beaches and amusement places.

Coney Island, as usual, received most of the patronage. Fifty persons cooled off there in the surf. At Long Beach a party of six went swimming.

Many concessions were opened at the pleasure parks. Golfers, waiting for just such an atmosphere, swarmed the links.

The youngsters played "knuckles down" marbles. From morning until long after the sun went down all highways were heavily trafficked.

An so it went, with today's forecast predicting even warmer weather with the probability of rain.

It's by Noel Coward, the witty and often naughty playwright.

HOW ONE WOMAN LOST 10 LBS. IN A WEEK

Mrs. Betty Luedke of Dayton, writes: "I am using Kruschen to reduce weight—I lost 10 pounds in one week and cannot say too much to recommend it."

To take off fat easily, SAFELY and HARMLESSLY—take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—it is the safe way to lose unsightly fat and one bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle. Get it at any drugstore in America. If this first bottle fails to convince you this is the safest way to lose fat—money back.

BICENTENNIAL OF GEO. WASHINGTON EVENT OF UNUSUAL INTEREST

Bicentennial Commission Announces Plans For Observance Lasting Nine Months of This Year—Nation-Wide Celebrations Unique.

The 200th anniversary of the birth of George Washington will be marked this year by observance lasting from Feb. 22 until Thanksgiving, the Bicentennial commission has announced. The commission has recently made public details concerning the nation-wide celebration.

It is sponsored by the United States Government; Congress created the United States George Washington Bicentennial Commission and the President of the United States is its chairman.

It will not be a world's fair or exposition, and it will not be held in any one place.

It will be a nation-wide, even a world-wide series of celebrations in which every state, city and town—every organization and institution, every home and individual—in this country, together with Americans and others in many foreign countries, will participate. Every community is expected to plan and carry out its own program of events, in cooperation with the United States Commission and the State Commissions.

It will last from Washington's birthday, February 22, 1932, to Thanksgiving Day, November 24, 1932, with special local and national celebrations everywhere on all holidays, anniversaries, or other days which can be connected with the life of George Washington.

While the ceremonies on February 22 should be especially elaborate and impressive, as marking the actual Two Hundredth Anniversary of George Washington's Birth, arrangements also should be made for public gatherings, pageants, plays, processions, musical festivals, tableaux and other events at various times during the period of more than nine months. Every program should relate to the great life and work of the First President and Founder of the Republic. On Memorial Day, Independence Day, Labor Day, Thanksgiving Day and other national and local holidays or anniversaries there should be special programs, but the celebration should not be confined to these days.

It will take time to prepare the local programs and arrange for the local celebrations. The United States Commission urges mayors and other officials of every city and town in the country to appoint George Washington Bicentennial Commissions or Committees in order to prepare for the events of the Bicentennial year. All organizations and institutions of whatever character—civic, business, labor, educational, religious, fraternal, literary, social and others are urged to plan for a "George Washington Year" in 1932.

The United States George Washington Bicentennial Commission, Washington Building, Washington, D. C., will send suggestions for local programs to any committee, organization or group that will write for them.

LITTER AND WASTE

Reproduced and dedicated to every man, woman and child who might read this, particularly in Bay St. Louis and vicinity.

BY ANGELO PATRI.

Whenever I go about the country I think of how lovely it must have been before all the people came and littered it with ugly things—billboards, tin cans, old rags and bottles, ashes and anything else that they didn't want at the moment. It is too bad that we cannot live in a place without spoiling it. But it seems as though we couldn't. Grass is trodden off the face of the earth. Trees are chopped down to make room for improvements. Lovely old rocks are defaced and the wild flowers blotted out of the spring picture they used to grace. Why do we do this?

Every so often we who work in the schools are asked to campaign against the litter of the streets, the ruin of the parks, the injury to property that heedless people leave behind them. Children do not litter the streets as much as grown people do. They do not have the newspapers and the cigar stubs and the garbage that is strewn about the place. All that waste and litter belong to a grownup people who are teaching the children by their bad example.

Children do not chop down trees. They do not pollute the rivers and despoil the woods. They do not nail gigantic signs on lovely old barns. They don't print all sorts of admonitions on lovely gray boulders that used to grace the roads. They don't picnic on somebody's well-kept lawn and leave the wreckage behind when they go. They are not responsible for half the mess that disgraces our town and country life. They are watching the grownups and soon they will be doing the same thing in the way unless we teach them better.

I think that every course of study should include civics and the children from kindergarten through university should have that course in full measure. I think it is time to speak right up in the classroom and teach the children that waste and litter such as they see about the roads, the streets, back lots, river banks, railroad lines, is wrong. It is an economic wrong, a social wrong, a spiritual wrong. It must be set right.

We have ordinances and laws regulating this, but we still have the ugly condition. If we teach the children to keep the place, where spread on the beach boulevard in the direction of Waveland.

The sheriff's office was at once notified of what had happened, and quicker than it takes to tell it, so it seemed Deputy Sheriff Horace L. Kerosien and Deputy Sheriff Jos. V. Bontemps were on the scene and exercised every endeavor fittingly to the time and after what had happened. In a comparatively short time they had notified every officer along the coast, interior points and Mobile and New Orleans. It was quick and good work, and how the men have escaped, is difficult to imagine. However, they did it and evidently made good their get-away.

President Returning From New Orleans.

George R. Rea, president of the bank, was on his way from New Orleans while the bank was being robbed. He reached here on the Mary Jane at ten to one o'clock, and Jimmy Jones, of the L. & N. office, approached him quietly and told him in passive terms that the thought there was trouble at the bank; that he thought it had been robbed.

Mr. Rea rushed to his office and found both sides of the street curbed with autos and a great crowd outside the bank and many on the sidewalk. He at once took the situation in hand with Cashier Yates and in a few minutes the bank was doing business as usual.

The Bandits.

Both men appeared to be young and of ordinary stature, one about thirty-five and the other who did the looting, slightly older. One wore a dark suit with a hat while the other a light suit with a cap. Both wore glasses that resembled sun shields, possibly thus affording a disguise.

It was said the men and the "blue car" had been seen about town during morning hours. Some say they had breakfast here.

In searching the silver chest of the safe, they knocked about a little black box containing $500 in gold coin, and left it.

Sheriff Keller was in Biloxi attending federal court at the time of the excitement. However, he was efficiently represented.

Detectives from insurance company sent that night and next day in this city, seeking clues and studying possibilities. Banking and indemnity companies are unrelenting in search for the men.

The men came in with two bags made of white material and bearing the printed advertisements on "face of Farwell & McFarland, sugar operators of Louisiana. One was left behind. Detectives took it as possible clue.

THE ECHO'S COOKING CLASS

Have you ever thought about how many ways you can fix crabmeat? It may start off a tasty breakfast omelet, reappear in many luncheon dishes, emerge in a delightful variety of afternoon tea dainties, grace the most formal dinner and even pop up at supper. Try these recipes, perhaps they'll spur your imagination to create some new ones of your own.

Crabmeat Omelet

1 can crabmeat, 4 eggs, 4 tablespoons milk, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1-8 teaspoon pepper, 1 tablespoon butter.

Beat eggs slightly, just enough to blend the yolks and whites, add milk, salt and pepper. Melt butter in frying pan, then add egg mixture. As this cooks, lift the cooked portion with a spatula, letting the uncooked portion run underneath. Continue until whole omelet is of creamy consistency. Cover with small pieces of flaked crabmeat, turn up, heat for a few minutes so that omelet can brown. Fold and serve in hot platter. Sprinkle with parsley finely chopped.

Crabmeat and Curry.

1 can crabmeat, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 teaspoon finely chopped onion, 2-3 tablespoon curry powder, 1 cup chicken broth, 3 tablespoons flour, seasoning.

BILL INTRODUCED FOR $65,000 BAY ST. LOUIS P. O. BY CONGRESSMAN

Garner Is Nation-Wide Popular—Personal and General
Notes From Washington by Sea Coast Echo Correspondent.

By Representative Robert S. Hall,
Capitol Hill, Feb. 22, 1932.

TODAY ushers in the nation-wide celebration of the 200th anniversary of the birth of Washington, and it behooves every American to pause out of respect to the memory of the greatest American of all. In these trying times it would not be amiss for everybody to meditate on the crisis through which Washington piloted the Nation 150 years ago. Although he distinguished himself as a soldier and a statesman, he wanted more than anything else to be a successful farmer. His Mount Vernon plantation then ranked among the largest and best in this country. As his diary discloses, Washington operated his farms on a strictly business basis and tried by exhaustive experimentation to elevate the industry to a more prosperous status. He deemed agriculture foundation of our economic structure and suggested that the government aid in its development in one of his messages to Congress.

TERMINATION of the prevailing business panic prompted me to vote for the Glass-Steagall bill for enlarging the discount facilities of the Federal Reserve System. Though I do not regard this measure as a cure-all for economic ailments, I shall be greatly disappointed if it fails to pan out. Permitting bankers to discount hitherto ineligible paper, at the discretion of the Federal Reserve Board, will enable them to lend more money for constructive purposes, which will tend to put more money into circulation, as well as to increase both farm prices and industrial wages. What the farmer needs above all is higher prices for his products; therefore I am for any legislation which promises so to do.

I am pleased to report that I recently introduced bills providing for a $100,000 Government Building at Pascagoula and for a $65,000 Building for Bay St. Louis. During my service in Congress new public buildings have been provided for Lumberton, Hattiesburg and Columbia; also the million-dollar Soldiers Home, soon to be erected at Biloxi, and the 50-thousand-dollar Fish Hatchery which will be established in my district in 1933. So I feel confident that both of these new projects will sooner or later materialize.

M. R. FREDERICK SULLEN, editor of the Jackson News, and Mrs. Sullen were Washington visitors last week. Senators and Congressmen with their wives accompanied them on tours of the Capitol City and pointed out the beauty spots and places of historic interest. Congressman Whittington and I escorted our distinguished guests of the Speakers room in the Capitol, where Fred and Mr. Garner felicitated each other over the favorable Democratic outlook like two old-time cronies; and, before the confab ended, were slapping one another on the back and calling each other "Fred" and "Jack." The Speaker also exhibited his unusual collection of varied gavel, including the famous mesquite gavel sent by an ardent Texas admirer. It is interesting to know that he has already received more gavel than any other Speaker—one of the many evidences of his nation-wide popularity.

Mr. J. R. Slade, formerly with the State Teachers College at Hattiesburg, was also a recent caller. He is now connected with the North Carolina State Teachers College.

41 Federal Prisoners Taken To Leavenworth

Forty-one government prisoners in charge of Deputy Marshal Sardin George left Gulfport during the week-end for Leavenworth, Kan., where they will be incarcerated in the federal penitentiary. The majority were sentenced in federal court at Biloxi for prohibition violations and will serve terms of from one to three years.

COMMENT ON SPORTS BY SHERIDAN

More Chain Baseball
Dempsey's Outlook
Football Rules
Winter Olympics.

EVIDENCE that the New York Yankees have entered into the development of a chain system comes with the appointment of Geo. M. Weiss as general manager of the club's minor league interests. Weiss will have full charge of the Newark club, recently purchased, and such other clubs as operate under working agreements.

Weiss is an experienced baseball man, with a wide reputation for his judgment of ball players. For years he has sold an average of half a dozen players to the big league clubs. More recently, as general manager of the Baltimore Orioles, he has exhibited a pronounced tendency, to develop and sell numerous stars to the Majors and, at the same time, contrive to fill the gaps with capable players.

King Levinsky, a real fighter, proved a stumbling block to the ambitious effort of Jack Dempsey to line himself up for another shot at the crown that he surrendered to Gene Tunney. Dempsey has given a marvelous exhibition of the comeback kind, but Levinsky proved too rugged and tough for him at Chicago last week. Moreover, this Levinsky is ranked No. 7 among all heavyweights by the National Boxing Association. He carries a powerful roundhouse right, which when it lands, is enough. It settled Loughran, dropped Lomski and hurt Carnahan. By disposing of Dempsey the King acquires valuable publicity and ought to be an attraction at the gate for a good bout.

Edward K. Hull, chairman of the football rules committee, declares that the recent changes makes football "safe" for the average school boy player, all of them being designed to avoid injuries. The dead ball rule ought to eliminate most of the piling on and the fact that all striking is illegal, clarifies the use of the hands and should make easier the enforcement of the new and heavy penalty, which is disqualification and half the distance to the goal.

Ambition of the rolling block and flying tackle should remove one of the worst cause of injuries. Although most of the time it is the attacking player who is the one hurt, Reports to the committee clearly established this. The new substitute

DROPPING A MELON.

THE House has dropped the measure to impeach former Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, introduced a few weeks ago.

WHY NOT THE COMBINATION?

A combined church and apartment house is going up in New York. It was Blackstone's idea that the law should be brought home to every man's door. The clergy may have adopted a like view respecting religion. They might do worse.

HOW IT APPEARS TO THE ECHO.

The Jap-Chinese trouble has all ear marks of a real war. In the first place, the Japanese are not making the headway that they looked for. Most wars open that way. Then there are the usual charges of bad faith on both sides. Finally, there is the usual expression of hope for peace, coupled with a hustle to get munitions ready. Everything considered it looks as though things were staged for a lively bout.

FROM MAKER TO CONSUMER.

The amount of activity in what may be called selling, as distinguished from producing or consuming, is indicated by the fact that, according to census reports, about two per cent of commodities manufactured, pass directly from the making to the home consumer.

IT DOES LOOK THAT WAY.

"Hands across the sea" has passed into currency as a phrase indicating international friendship. A public speaker drove his thoughts home in short order when he said that we are now suffering from "Fists across the sea."

THEORETICALLY SPEAKING.

Up to approximately 50 years ago, a college graduate who had followed his calling long enough, could get his Master's degree by asking for it, at the expense of a postage stamp. Probably many who got the degree in that way, and many who have received it since, by more laborious rule, allowing a withdrawn player to reenter the game in any subsequent period, should encourage a needed recuperation rather than keep them in to take the punishment because they are too valuable to the team. The fact that kick-off may be varied by punting or drop kick is included in the revisions, which are hailed with satisfaction by most coaches.

Biloxi Messenger Boy Hurt When Hit By Auto Late Monday Night

A 17-year-old Western Union messenger boy is at the point of death at Biloxi hospital, suffering from a fractured skull and other injuries incurred when struck Monday night by an automobile driven by a hit-and-run driver. The youth, Oscar Dennison, is a freshman at Biloxi high school, and worked at night to earn money to pay for his schooling. He is the son of Mrs. E. F. Dennison, of North Biloxi, and resides in Biloxi with W. B. Pearson, Biloxi high school instructor.

Prohibition Pointers.

With so much discussion under way about prohibition, the following figures may be interesting.

Under the title—Cost of prohibition in the past eleven years, a New York newspaper offers this:

Arrests for prohibition violations, 681,000.

Number of prisoners, 171,000.

Automobiles seized, 78,000.

Value of all property seized, $230,000,000.

Premises padlocked, 35,000.

Cost of enforcement, $350,000,000.

Estimated loss of revenue $11,000,000,000.

Killings 1286.

And yet the Hattiesburg American from which the foregoing is taken, has the audacity that such terrible cost is justified by the high (?) standard of living in America.

Corrected.

"Pass farther down the car, please," said the conductor to an old man and a boy who had just entered.

"Taint father, it's grandfather," said the youngster.

methods, are willing to admit by this time that being a Master of Arts, or a Master of something else, has a practical value of about two cents.

WHICH WAS THE HOTTER?

Soviet Russia is afraid of a White Russian revolt. The world at large, and probably many of the Russians themselves, are wondering whether the Czar's hot frying pan was not, after all, a little more comfortable than the Soviet fire.

ONE INSTANCE OF SUCCESS AT LEAST.

The mention of a canal usually brings to mind a grassy ditch, a dirty boat, and a cursing mule driver. Canals are neither a joke nor an obsolete means of transportation. Inland waterways are one of the few business enterprises that had a good year in 1931.

CATCH FISH FROM RIVER WITH NETS AT NEW ORLEANS

Old Man River at New Orleans Is Kind to Hungry And Needy During Time Of Stress.

Old Man River at New Orleans which is responsible for the city's water supply and for its position as the Port of the Mississippi Valley to the world, has become a benefactor in a different way.

For anybody who wants a good meal of river trout can dip it up by leaning over the Louisiana street wharf.

Fish in great schools have been swimming briskly upstream for several days. Fish experts believe that these fish are probably of a species that swims up the river to leave its eggs in fresh water. The eggs, while they must be laid in fresh water, must hatch in salt water so after they are laid they drift back down stream in a different way.

Fishermen are lining the Louisiana street wharf bearing nets on long poles. Leaning over the edge of the wharf, each one dips his net into the water, slowly sweeps it along the direction of the current, and after a moment brings it up again with one or two or three flopping fish.

So numerous are the fish that they are sold for a nickel or a dime a string. So palatable are they that one fisherman remarked, "If you catch a string of these fish and fry 'em, the president up in Washington couldn't ask for a better meal."

The fish are classed by the chief biologist of conservation as gizzard shad and are coarse and bony, but edible.

Straining the Limit

Hobbs—Do you live within your income?

Dobbs—Good heavens no. It's all I can do to live within my credit.

Ardent Churchgoer

Wife—Is it church time, John?

Husband—No, it's auto time. The old bus is pretty sure to break down before we get there.

Bay High Tigers

Conclude Pre-Tournament Play Here Tuesday

(James Hays)

The Bay High Tigers concluded their pre-tournament basketball play here Tuesday night, when they roared over Lyon High of Covington, 23-11. The team as a whole played one of the best games of its season, and with 8 days of practice, would be in the peak of condition when it enters the Class A run-off on March 4. A great disadvantage for the team, however, is the absence of Athletic Director Milton Phillips, who is confined at the Hotel Dieu, New Orleans, recovering from an operation for appendicitis. Here's to a speedy recovery Coach Phillips.

The Tigers, led by J. V. Bon-tomps, who sank 5 field goals and a foul shot, polled an early lead and were not approached during the game. The Lyonites fought hard but seemed unable to locate the basket. "Bruster" Erwin, also of the Bay Hi, captured second honors with 6 points. Galloway played well for the visitors.

In a preliminary game of the double entertainment, Bay High's Juniors defeated the Biloxi Hi Juniors, 19-9. Curtis Ladner was star.
